We, too, have been guilty of equal blunders, just such a feverish and fictitious prosperity but the healthy condition of the country, its followed as we behold now. They, as we, wealth and commerce, have prevented the overlooked one little paragraph in Adam evils from being so calamitous. The people, Smith's wealth of nations: too, in their devotion to the Union, have backed up the Government in such a way it has been impossible to squander more than fifty per cent. of its credit. currency, if it was necessary, would seem to us the best. As for example, the Government notes or greenbacks being issued, taxation to curities fell with a crash. A run was made the amount of the issue should have been imposed. By this every dollar in paper would have been represented by its equal in the in vain. It fell like a house of cards. Interosing third parties makes another step. The fovernment depends on the credit of the hird party, and the holder of the obligation epends on the credit of the Government.

Omitting, however, the consideration of this, and conceding that it is necessary to draw on posterity for our present expenditures-a concession more than can be shown to be absolutely necessary -we most decidedly object to at least one of counterpart of Mr. Chase's delirious dream of the proposed means to effect loans, as con- financial policy. At least that is one of the various reasons offered in his first stitutions, resting upon a paper basis, to report. If any refutation of this was necessary, it can be shown that the The result is not a matter of speculation, but old bank currency was sounder than Mr. Chase's, from the fact that all of their notes have been driven out of circulation. Any merchant or student of political economy knows what this means. If two kinds of currency are in market, one better lie orb, rising only to burst in a thousand than the other, the better one is driven from circulation. For a simple reason: The best is retained and hoarded; the worst is got rid of as soon as possible, and so becomes the medium of exchange. With this plain fact before us, it is evident that Mr. Chase has effected just the reverse of what he proposed,

There is another consideration for the taxpayer. These new National Banks are not going to be carried on by patriotic individuals from mere love of country. Bankers are not given to carrying on business upon any suck asis any more than other people. They expect some inducement; at least, a fair margin of profit. This profit, not pertaining to the "greenbacks" or treasury notes, some one in the Union, Kentuckians would, to-day, must pay; and this some one is, of course, the make more sacrifices than the people of any

It may be said that any-body who is rich enough to charter a car, or for that mutter a train, and ride in it in solitary state to Washington or elsewhere, has a right to do so. Undoubtedly any man has a right to make a fool of himself. This we cheerfully admit. But he is none the less a fool because he exercises his right, and he is not the less liable to the cersure of every man of good sense and refined taste. Mr. Seward has a per-fect right to perambulate the streets in "spangles," such as worn by the c'reus-riders, "spangles," such as worn by the c reus riders, and Mrs. Lincoln has an equal right, whenever she appears in public, to do so in full ball costume. Marriage of Royal Widows.

Concerning the rumor of the second marage of Queen Victoria C. C. Hazewell, in the ston Traveller, gossips thus pleasantly:

The English of the present day do not fancy he remarriage of royal ladies, though that kind of thing is not unknown to their annals. kind of thing is not unknown to their annals. Adelicia of Louvailne, second wife of Henry I, took a second husband in the persen of William de Albiva, and the marriage was a very happy one. Isabella of Angouleme, wife of King John, of unblessed memory, took a second husband in the Comte de la Marche, a Lusignon, and bore him eight children. Isabella of Valois, second wife of Richard II., had for her second husband her cousin, the Duke of Orleans, a poet of much renown. Katherine Parr, the last of Henry VIII.'s six wives, margied Lord Seymour, of Sudley, and she had more than once married before she had become Queen Consort. It is believed that Henrietta Maria, widow of Charles I., was secretly married to Harry Jermyn. No English Queen Dowager has been suspected of marrying a second time since Henrietta Maria's death.

In these days no Parliament would think of asking Queen Victoria to marry. Modern ideas are more delicate than were those of old times. The English of Anne's day would ents, Messrs. Hendricks and Hart, have ar- times. The English of Anne's day would rived at Fortress Monroe, under flag of truce, have been as much pleased had their sovereign married a second time as the English of to-day would be displeased were Queen Victoria to bestow her fair hand upon some fortunate and his memory is revered. Then people, as well as sovereigns, have become more exclusive, and a Queen is considered to be a more sacred personage in England now than she was even in the divine right days. There would not be the slightest impropriety in the Queen's marrying a second time, but if she were so to marry, no matter how worthy should be her choice—and she is not the woman to make a bad choice—the proceeding would go far to destroy her well-wen popularity. In this country we should take a ularity. In this country we should take a very different view of the matter and heartily should we congratulate a female sovereign, had we one, should she enter a second time into the holy state of matrimeny

The Desert of Sahara,

The discoveries of recent African explorers have dispolted many of the popular notions concerning the great desert of Sahara. It used to be described as a nearly level sandy plain. This plain, it is now ascertained, does not exist, except at its eastern and western extremities. The central portions rise, in the form of terrsees, to 900 or 1,200 feet above the valleys of the AVas and Soudan. They are interspersed with ravines and granite hills. Barth speaks of mountains 4,000 or 5,000 feet high. In general, however, the surface of the desert is flat or slightly undulating; in some places covered with a thick bed of sand, in others hard and flinty. Every aspect confirms the The discoverice of recent African explorers bard and flinty. Every aspect confirms the opinion of Humboldt, that the desert is the bed of a former sea, elevated by geological convulsions. The traveler, almost at every step, meets with mounds of fossil shells and other debris of marine animals. There are immense deposits of rock salt, in some places as pure as marble, and so compact as to serve in the construction of houses. Soudan derives salt from this source. The efflorescence of nitre and saltpeter is almost everywhere apparent. Lions, tigers, and other ferocious animals with which the desert has in imagination been peopled, are met with only in the forests of the cases, are met with only in the forests of the cases, where alone they can find food and water. Proclamation by the Governor. Proclamation by the Governor.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, 2

FRANKFORT, Kv., Jan. 4, 1864.

THE FREQUENT OUTRAGES PERPETRATED IN various parts of the State by lawless bands of manders can, in a large degree, be traced to the active aid of rebel sympathiers in our midst or the active to furnish military commandants the information in their possession, which would lead to the defeat and capture of such maranders.

Sympathizers with the rebellion who, while enjoying protection from the Government, abuse the leniency extended to them by co-oca ing the movements of rebel guerrillas, by giving them information, affording them shelter, supplying them with provision and oth rwise encouraging and fomenting private raids, are in criminal complicity with all the outrages perpetrated by the maranders whom they secretly countenance.

It is in the power of persons whose sympathies are with the rebellion to prevent guerrilla raids, alm st in variably, by furnishing to military officers of the United States or State of Kentucky the information which experience has proved them to be, as a general thing, possessed of.

If all would unite, as is their duty, in putting down

If all would unite, as is their duty, in putting down guerrillas, we would soon cease to be troubled with their raids. A neglect to afford all assistance and information which may add in defeating the designs of ngaraud. as parties, can but be construed as a culpable and active assistance to our enemies.

I therefore request that the various military commandants in the State of Kentucky will, in every instance where a loyar citizen is taken off by bands of guerrillas, immediately arrest at least five of the most prominent and active recei sympathizers in the vicinity of such outrage for every loyal man taken by guerrillas. These sympathizers should be held as hostages for the safe and speedy retarn of the lo all citizens. Where there are dislayal relatives of guerrillas, they should be the chief sufferers. Let them learn that if they refue to exert themselves actively for the assistance and protection of the loyal, they must expect to reap the just fruits of their complicity with the enemies of our State and people. NEW YORK, February 2. The following are extracts from the Richnond papers:
Two Yankee gunboats escended the Choriver as far as Harrisville, Hartford ty, North Carolina, and landed 300 men, who burnt several houses and destroyed one hundred and five pounds Government bacon. Rebel accounts report several of them killed by our cavalry while returning to the boats. The health of Alexander H. Stephens was improving. Small-pox had appeared at Saulsbury, N. C. was abating at Danville, as also among th Jnion prisoners.

Eighteen Yankee prisoners had escaped from Richmond.

which says: The time has passed for off-nsive military operations on the part of our southern armies beyond the recovery of lost portions of territory. The true policy is to risk nothing. Our means of subsistence have been too far exhausted to admit of any other than defensive accides it has become than defensive tactics. It has become with us a simple question of endurance. With the South the duration of the war is simply a question of a continued supply of food for the people and the army. The South can hold out indefinitely. If at the eleventh hour she does succeed, the Richmond Congress can bring her to subjugation in six months more by conscript ing the present producing classes and thrustng them into an unclad and unfed army. The great want is food and clothing. The first duty of Government is to provide these sup-plies, and if they are not provided except by weakening the army, the alternative must be adopted of resisting with smaller armies—using the factics of Fabius and the strategy of datas as

NEW YORK, February 2. A correspondent of the Boston Journal, on board the gunboat Jackson, at Ship Island, writes under date of the 18th as follows: "Last night about 10 o'clock a small sail-boat came down bringing some very impor-tant intelligence. The rebels in Fort Morgan tant intelligence. The rebels in Fort Morgan revolted, and during the difficulty the rebel boats in Mobile Bay attempted to arrest the garrison of the Fort. The whole Fort being in revolt, and with the American flag flying, opened on the rebel gunboats with every gun in the Fort. They succeeded in driving the gunboats off, but were not on their guard, and that night a large force was drawn from Morgania. that night a large force was drawn from Mo-bile, capturing the whole garrison except four men who escaped in the darkness in a small boat, and came to Ship Island when he heard for the first time the astounding intelligence. Since then we have heard more of the revolt from some additional deserters. Servetors from some additional deserters. Seventy of the revolters are condemned to be shot to-day in Mobile. We also learn from these de-serters that at Round Island, up the sound, eighteen more deserters from the rebel army were brought in.

These deserters bring the very important information that the rebel forces in and around formation that the rebel forces in and around Mobile have organized a secret society and are determined to fight no longer. It is said that the movement, started among the seldeers, is daily growing stronger, and many of-ficers are comprised in it. I think this the most important movement in the war, and is he most significant. I am confident the news CAIRO, February 2.

HEADQR'S ARMY OF NORTHERN VIRGINIA, } Jan. 22d, 1864. General Order No. 7.

The Commanding General considers it due to the army to state that the temporary reduction of rations has been caused by circumstances beyond the control of those charged with its support. Its welfare and comforts are objects of his constant and earnest solicitation, and no effort has been shared to provide for its result. It is been spared to provide for its wants. It is hoped that the exertions now being made will render the necessity but of short duration; but the history of the army has shown that the country can require no sacrifice too great for its patriotic devotion. Soldiers, you tread with no unequal steps the road by which your fathers marched through suffering, privation and blood to independence. Continue to emulate them in the future as you have in the past. Washington, Feb. 1. It is rumored in high official circles that we are upon the eve of a war with France. Mr. Seward is said to have pursued a course towards the French government concerning the Florida, Rappatostrock, and the rams known to be building in France for the rebels, as to elicit a rophy from the French foreign Miniselicit a reply from the French foreign Minis-ter, in accordance with which the United States must either abandon its pretensions or go to war to maintain them.

Mr. Evarts was, it is stated, instructed to demand of France the surrender of the bel-ligerent rights accorded to the rebels, and it certain there is some serious difficulty with the French Cabinet, which alarms all but Mr. Seward. He, in view of the almost certainty of war in Europe, takes the highest possible grounds towards France. This may be taken for what it is worth. [Special to the Tribune.]

BYRON IN UNDRESS .- Leigh Hunt's descrip

BYRON IN UNDRESS.—Leigh Hunt's description of his intercourse with Byron while in Italy is very entertaining. The neble poet, he tells ue, sat up at night, writing "Don Juan," with a bowl of gin and water at his elbow. He did not rise till late, and then only to lounge about the garden, whistling or singing—chewing tebacco to prevent his growing corpulent, or indulging in jocular conversation with those he happened to meet. He wore a nankeen jacket, white vest and trousers and small velvet cap. Their difference of opinien did not prevent good-numored bantering and discussions; and they joked each other on the fact that there was only one book which both greatly admired, and that was Boswell's Johnson Byron, in his jocular moods, used to imitate Johnson for sport, in his manner and conversation, as well as other men of note.

AYER'S PILLS. ARE YOU SICK, FEE

As a Family Medicine. From Dr. E. W. Carturight, New Orleans.
Your Pills are the prince of purges. Their excellent qualities surpass any cathartic we posses They are mild, but very certain and effectual in their action on the bowels, which makes them invaluable to us in the daily treatment of disease.

Stomach. From Dr. Edward Boyd, Baltimore.

> DR. J. C. AYPR—Sir: I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headache any body can have by a dose or two of your Pils. It seems to arise from a foul stomach which they cleanse at once. Yours with great respect, ED, W. PREBLE, Yours with great respect, Clerk of Steamer Clarion. PITTSBURG, PA., May 1, 1855. Bilious Disorders--Liver Complaints

DR. Ayen: I have used Boston.
Sin my family and among those I am called to visit in distress. To regulate the organs of digestion and purify the blood, they are the very best remedy I have ever known, and I can confidently recommend them to my friends. Yours.

WARSAW, Wyoming Co., N. Y., Oct. 24, 1855.
DEAR Siz: I am using your Cathartic Pills in my pracce, and find them an excellent purgative to cleause the system and purify the foundrins of the blood.

From Dr. J. P. Vaughn, Montreal, Canada. From Dr. J. P. Yanging, Monreat, Canada, Too much cannot be said of your Pills for the cure of codicences. If others of our fratently have found them as efficacions as I have, they should join me in proclaiming it for the benefit of the multitudes who suffer from that complaint, which, although bad enough in tself, is the pregenitor of others that are worse. I believe costiveness to originate in the liver, but your Pills affect that organ and cure the disease. I find one or two large doses of your Pills, taken at the proper time, are excellent promotives of the natural secretion when wholly or partially surpressed, and also very effectual to cleanse the stomach and expel worms. INTRODUCES THE high y improved Spheroidal Spectacle Glasses. If adjusted to the eye by himself, they cannot fail to improve the most failing Sin: I have used your Pills in my general and hospi-al practice ever since you made them, and cannot hesi-ate to say they are the best cathartic we employ. Their equiating action on the liver is quick and decided, con-equently they are an admirable remedy for derange-nents of that organ. Indeed, I have seldom found a ase of billous disease so obstinate that it did not readi-vised to them. Fraternally yours.

Your Pills have had a long trial in my practice, and I hold them in esteem as one of the best aperients I have ever found. Their alterative effect upon the liver makes hem an excellent remedy, when given in small dose or bilious dysentery and diarrhem. Their sugar-coating makes them very acceptable and convenient for the use of women and chi'dren.

DR. Aver: Your Pil's are the paragon of all that is creat in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of ulcerous sores upon her hands and feet that had proved incurable for years. Her mother has been long trievously afflicted with blotches and pimples on her ekin and in her hair. After our child was cured, she also tried your Pills, and they have cured her. ASA MORGRIDGE.

DEAR BRO. AYER: I cannot answer you what complaints I have cured with your Pills better than to say all that we ever treat with a puryative medicine. I place great dependence on an effectual cathartic in my daily contest with disease, and believing as I do that your Pills afford us the best we have, I of course value them highly.

From Dr. Theodore Bell, of New York City.

Not only are your Pilis admirably adapted to their purpose as an aperient, but I find their beneficial effects upon the Liver very marked indeed. They have in my practice proved more effectual for the cure of bilious complaints than any one remedy I can mention. I sincerely rejoice that we have at length a purgative which is worthy the confidence of the profession and the people.
